A Liberal Judaism member is selling their collection of antiquarian Yiddish books, and has offered to donate a percentage of all profits to Liberal Judaism.

Books include:

- Argentinian edition of Sholem Aleichem
- 1910 Yiddish-English dictionary (Harkavy)
- 1945 anthology of American Yiddish poetry

If you're interested, please email Alexandra@liberaljudaism.org for a full list.

Glasgow Reform Visit

On 25th August we are delighted to welcome friends from Glasgow Reform Synagogue who will be joining us for our Shabbat service, led by Rabbi Mark. After the service we will have an informal lunch, so please bring along a non-meat dish to share, and if you could bring a bit more than normal to share with our GRS guests, that would be great. After lunch, we intend to go along to one of the shows at the Fringe. In order to give ourselves enough time, going to a show starting between 3pm - 4pm seems like the best option. From a quick look at the programme, I've seen the following shows that I think might appeal:

- * Daniel Cainer - Jewbadour (Cabaret)
free show at 4.15pm
- * Vanessa Rosenthal: Karen's Way (Play)
A Kindertransport Life – 3pm
- * Africa Entsha (Music)
From Soweto - 4pm
- * Anda Union (Music)
From Mongolia - 3.30pm

Details of all are in the Fringe Programme and summaries of the first two are on page 6.

If you are interested in coming along, please let me know, and similarly if you have any preferences for any of the above, or indeed any other shows, also please let me know. I'm not quite sure how we'll make a decision as to what we end up going to see, but I'll certainly keep in touch with everyone who does express an interest in coming along!

Volunteers needed

We will be organising a rota of people to greet members and visitors to the Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur services. Please contact Marjory Broadie (security@eljc.org), or leave a message on the community phone, if you can offer to join the rota and she will be in touch with more details.

Another time when we will need volunteers is in organising and setting out lunch after the Rosh Hashanah service at St Marks. If you could help with this either on the day before (Sunday 16/9 with transport to collect provisions) or before the service Monday 17/9 (to set out lunch), then please contact Gillian, chair@eljc.org or leave a message on the community phone.

Community Matters

High Holydays

Members of Sukkat Shalom and people attending the Choosing Judaism class will shortly be receiving full details of all our High Holyday services along with their tickets to attend the Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur services. All visitors, including friends and relatives, who wish to attend services are requested to apply for a ticket by emailing info@eljc.org or by leaving a message on the Community phone. We do not make a formal charge for tickets, but suggest that those who are able to do so may wish to make a donation. We would suggest a donation of £25 for a ticket. All members will receive a 'mitzvah invitation'. If you do not receive one, or if you would like to discuss any aspects of the mitzvot, please email me or leave a message on the Community phone.

Briefly: Rosh Hashanah (16-17/9) and Yom Kippur Services (25-26/9) will be at St Mark's Unitarian Church. Our Sukkot service and Sukkah building will be on Shabbat Chol Ha-Mo'ed Sukkot (6/10) and our Simchat Torah service will be at Columcille on erev Simchat Torah Sunday 7/10, at the early time of 6.30pm to encourage children to come. Progressive congregations celebrate Simchat Torah a day earlier than Orthodox congregations.

Children: We do not plan to have a crèche during any of the services. However, there will be a room available at St Marks for those parents wishing to take their children out of the services, and some crayons and paper will also be in the room. No supervision will be provided and so parents who wish to take children out of the service will have to organise their own supervision, since children must be supervised at all times. Obviously children are welcome to attend any of the services, but we would ask that parents ensure that the dignity of the services is maintained. There is a service specifically for children at 4.30pm on Yom Kippur, to which children (and all adults) are invited.

Blowing the Shofar: It is now our tradition to invite anyone who wishes to blow the shofar during the Rosh Hashanah service to do so. So, if you would like to try, please volunteer!

Memorial service: If you have anyone whose name you would like to be remembered in the memorial service on Yom Kippur, please let Nick Silk have details (Hebrew name, English name and relationship; details provided in previous years are still on file). It would be helpful if these details were given prior to Yom Kippur. Please note that once the memorial service has started, access will be restricted to ensure that there is minimal disruption during the service.

Prayer Books: The Liberal Judaism prayer book 'Machzor Ruach Chadashah' will be used for all High Holyday services. Some of you will already have copies of the machzor. If you would like to purchase a copy before the High Holydays, please contact Nick. The cost of the books is £16.90. The Sukkot and Simchat Torah services will use the 'usual' Liberal Judaism prayer book 'Siddur Lev Chadash'.

Chairman's Word: Kol Nidre Appeal

Nick's article about High Holyday arrangements reminds us that this time of year has come round again, more quickly than ever it seems to me, especially with the Holydays coming early this year. It is time for us to think about the charities we will support for the 5773 Kol Nidre appeal. We have only just sent off the cheques for last year and are receiving acknowledgements from the charities. In particular we had a very nice one from the Scottish Refugee Council who asked us to pass on their thanks to everyone who donated towards such a fantastic amount. They have allocated this collection to their Refugee Week Appeal. You can read about what this supports at:

http://www.scottishrefugeecouncil.org.uk/what_you_can_do/refugee_week_fundraising_appeal.

Turning to this coming year, we generally support four charities, a local Jewish one, a local non-Jewish one, an Israeli one and one that supports an international project in the developing world. We have had a request via Liberal Judaism to consider the Israeli Israel Religious Action Centre (IRAC) and enclosing a letter from their director Anat Hoffman which I quote below.

"This year marks two historical occasions: your Queen's Diamond Jubilee and IRAC's Silver Jubilee. While we did not have a flotilla parade, we did have reason for joy. This year, on IRAC's 25 anniversary, the State of Israel finally declared it would support the activities of Liberal/Reform and Conservative rabbis in regional councils, while clearly acknowledging their role as rabbis. This achievement, which the lawyers at IRAC have unremittingly worked towards for the past seven years, is a monumental moment for the Liberal/Reform Movement, and our struggle to advance freedom of religion in Israel.

"But our struggle to be equally recognized is far from over. This achievement can only become a true turning point for the Liberal/Reform movement in Israel if we manage to replicate this success to the hundreds of Liberal rabbis in Israel who are not yet included in this agreement. We also still need to resolve critical issues such as state recognition for non-Orthodox weddings and conversions. We are launching the Gold Campaign (named after Miri Gold, the first Liberal rabbi to receive state recognition) to achieve these goals. We know it can be done and we know that we have the ability and the drive to reach the next milestone, but we cannot do it without you.

"It would mean so much to us if Liberal congregations in the UK would be able to raise £20,000 for IRAC's Gold Campaign in their upcoming High Holiday Appeal. We have reached a pivotal moment, where we have the chance to change the future of Liberal Judaism in Israel. We can seize this momentum, with your help and support."

Do you think we should support this cause from our Kol Nidre appeal? IRAC's mission is to advance religious freedom and pluralism, tolerance, social justice and civil liberties in Israel. They use litigation, legislation, public policy and advocacy to advance civic equality. To learn more about their campaigns visit their web site (www.irac.org). It does not have the same humanitarian mission as our usual causes – or maybe it does? Please let us know what you think and also please send us in suggestions, with contact details, for other charities we might support for one or more of the four the categories we mention above. Just email chair@eljc.org with your ideas and suggestions.

Members' news

A lucky escape: Catherine Lyons, Phil Wadler, Adam and Leora emerged miraculously unscathed from a serious accident when their car went out of control on the M74 after a tyre burst. Although other vehicles were involved, happily no one was seriously injured.

Refuah Shlema, a speedy recovery to Miriam Vickers who has recently been diagnosed with breast cancer. She will have surgery this week, after which she will know what other treatments will follow. We hope this will be good news and she will be able to get back to normal soon.

The Choosing Judaism group met for a social lunch on Sunday 15th July in Edinburgh. Everyone had a great time and found it really useful to share experiences about studying, customs and traditions, attending services and the pathway to conversion. Many fed back that it is really beneficial for the group to be in touch between monthly classes, so a Facebook group has been set up. If you would like to join the group, you can do so here: www.facebook.com/groups/135346956604543

Charity Swim On 18th August, Helen Sherbourne will be taking part in a sponsored mile swim in Loch Ness. She is raising money for Scottish children's charity, CHILDREN 1ST (www.children1st.org.uk) which operates across Scotland to support and protect vulnerable children and young people. If you would like to follow her progress, here is her blog: <http://sinkorswim2012.wordpress.com>. Same sex marriage to be legalised

The Scottish Government has announced that it will be bringing forward legislation to permit this. You can read the details at <http://www.scotland.gov.uk/News/Releases/2012/07/same-sex25072012>. This decision followed a consultation to which many Sukkat Shalom members responded. You can read the analysis of the responses at <http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Resource/0039/00397030.pdf>

Rabbi Mark Solomon has commented publicly: :

“This is a day of pride and joy for Scotland and all her LGBT citizens. It is a major step towards a fully equal and just society where the commitment of all loving couples is honoured. At a Jewish wedding we shout Mazal-tov (congratulations and good luck) when the bridegroom breaks the glass to end the ceremony. A huge Mazal-tov to the Scottish government and us all!”.

Perhaps Sukkat Shalom will host the first same-sex Jewish wedding in the UK?

An interfaith limerick by Charles Raab

Said a man from the Straits of Hormuz,
Upon finding some bottles of booze,
'Although I can't guzzle 'em,
Because I'm a Muslim,
I can certainly sell them to Jews!'
